Dear Harold,

Here's Chapter VII, on Tippit's murder.

I've got some more work to do on the ending and will send that along later.

I will, of course, be grateful for your frank comments.

With every good wish to you and Miss Lil for the new year,

Cordially,

PS: We loved and devoured your delicious raisin nut cake. Thank you so much. And, if I haven't said it, it was simply great seeing you both.
